In order to earn Honors Experiential and Advanced Learning credit for an accelerated graduate course, the student and professor must review and sign this form. The student must submit this form with a copy of the program acceptance and the course syllabus via the Online Portal (see link above) by the end of that semester's change of schedule period. Credit will not be granted retroactively.

Student and professor should check each box below and sign this form to indicate agreement with the following requirements. Note that these are the minimum Honors College requirements for experiential and advanced learning and a course may require more than is listed here in a given assignment. If that assignment goes
