Employees are encouraged to refer to the USM Policy VII-7.49 for the full provisions of the parental leave benefit.

The Parental leave assurance is 60 continuous workdays (480 hours) to care for a new child in the six (6) months immediately following the birth or adoption of the child. Parental Leave runs concurrently with an employee's FMLA entitlement, pursuant to USM Policy VII.50 Policy on Family and Medical Leave Staff. If you are not eligible for FMLA entitlement you will complete only this form and provide medical documentation from the treating physician (doctor's note, birth certificate, etc.).

Following are the flexible options in which the employee can structure use of accrued leave before being eligible for paid parental leave:

- i. Exhaust all accrued personal, holiday, and annual leave. Paid parental leave is available once these leave options are depleted.
- ii. Exhaust all accrued personal, holiday, and sick leave. Sick leave may be substituted for annual leave (or annual leave for sick leave), hour for hour, up to the amount of annual leave accrued at the commencement of leave. Paid parental leave is available once these leave options are depleted.
- iii. Exhaust all accrued personal, holiday, and a combination of annual and sick leave up to the maximum amount of annual leave accrued at the commencement of leave. For example, if an employee has two hundred (200) hours of accrued annual leave, they may elect to split the hours evenly between accrued annual and accrued sick, using 100 hours from each leave bucket. Paid parental leave is available once these leave options are depleted.

The employee's eligible leave will be used throughout the parental leave period, as it is accrued or granted.

I have read and understand that I am required to choose one of the available options listed above as part of the 60-day/480-hour paid Parental Leave assurance.
